

$50 to fill the gap!

To encourage members to undertake annual prostate cancer screening tests, Incolink will reimburse the gap between the cost of the doctor's appointments and the tests involved in one round of prostate cancer screening, and the relevant Medicare rebate, to a maximum of $50.00 per member.

To claim, Incolink members will need to undertake the tests, pay the medical accounts, claim the Medicare rebate, and provide to us:

- the original accounts, showing that the visit/tests related to the prostate screening process; and
- the Medicare receipts, showing the gap between the account and the Medicare rebate.

Once we receive your completed claim form and attached receipts, we will pay the gap into your nominated bank account by Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) within two working days.

Please note: If the accounts have been bulk-billed by your medical provider and you have not had to pay towards the cost of the test, you will NOT be able to make a claim through Incolink.
